ISRAEL ASKED TO FALL BACK TO OLD LINES

U.N. Council Votes in Favor of Resolution Calling for Withdrawal in Negev

OPPOSED BY UKRAINE

Paris, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A British spokesman said today Britain will ask the U. N. Security Council tomorrow to extend to all Palestine its order to Jews and Arabs to give up positions won during the truce.

He said Sir Alexander Cadogan, the chief British delegate, will present the new resolution as "a matter of principle." In effect, it will apply mainly to the Jews, who made big gains in the Negev desert of the south and Galilee, in the north. There was no reported Arab gain.

The council adopted a British-Chinese resolution last night calling for a withdrawal in the Negev. The U. S. supported the proposal after putting up some amendments. The Jews opposed it; the Arab states supported it.

The United States amendment was intended to broaden the scope of the British-Chinese plan. U. S. officials explained.

The Jews said privately the U. S. delegation, backed by Britain, pushed the resolution through last night with President Truman's consent and in defiance of his pre-election policies.

The American amendment deleted specific mention of sanctions if either Israel or Egypt refused to obey the Council's orders and substituted a general section of the U. N. charter which allows punishment ranging from investigation to armed intervention.

The resolution, sponsored by Britain and China, calls for withdrawal of Israeli and Arab forces to positions held on Oct. 14, before the Negev fighting flared.

Israel would be forced to fall back, but the Egyptian troops would not be permitted to return automatically to their old positions. The resolution empowers Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, interim Palestine mediator, to "establish provisional lines beyond which no movement of troops shall take place."

The resolution passed by a 9-1 vote, with the Soviet Ukraine opposing it. Russia abstained.

The Council then defeated a Ukrainian resolution calling for negotiation between the two parties of all points in question, including the troop withdrawal.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain proposed that the principles of the resolution approved by the Council be applied to all of Palestine. This would mean a change in battle lines in the north, where the Jews claimed last week to have cleared Arab forces from all of the Galilee region.

After Russian Jakob A. Malik objected to immediate consideration the Council voted to delay action on Cadogan's move until further reports are available from the Holy Land. Bunche supported the postponement.

The American amendment to the British-Chinese resolution was the first move by the U. S. delegation since the American elections.

COAST PAPERS HIKE SINGLE COPY PRICES

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Two of San Francisco's four daily newspapers have announced a price increase of from 5 to 7 cents for single copies, effective Nov. 8.

The Chronicle, a morning newspaper, first announced the raise, followed by the afternoon Call-Bulletin.

Constantly rising production and materials costs were cited for the increase.

There was no immediate announcement of a similar increase by the Examiner, a morning paper, or the News, an afternoon publication. Executives of the papers said, however, the matter was under consideration.

Some Los Angeles newspapers announced the two cent increase.

Steer Owned By 14-Year-Old Mercer Boy Brings $5,425

Pittsburgh, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Fourteen-year-old John L. Tat of Mercer Rd. got $5,425 for his purebred Angus steer yesterday. Even in these days that's pretty good dough for beef on the hoof.

Reason that John's steer brought him a check for $5,425 was its choice as grand champion of the Pittsburgh Junior Livestock show. It was auctioned off along with 329 other heves.

The whole lot came to $18,630 and brought $124,328.55 which figured about 39.02 cents a pound. John's $5 a pound tie last year's mark, previous high price for the show.

Also auctioned were 131 lambs weighing 10,740 pounds and sell-

New Selling Drive Hits Stock Market

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A new selling drive hit the stock market today.

Leading issues dropped 25 cents to as much as $3 a share in heavy trading.

The fresh attack by selling forces followed yesterday's substantial rally after the post-election crack-up on Wednesday.

Steel stocks were among the widest losers, along with motors, oils, rails and chemicals. Uneasiness in the business community over plans of the new administration was credited as a major factor in the latest display of market weakness. Inflationary factors in particular received close attention in the financial district.

U. S. Citizens Are Urged To Quit Nanking

Nanking, Nov. 5.—(AP)—All American dependents in the Nanking-Shanghai area are being evacuated as rapidly as ships become available. Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, director of U. S. joint military advisory groups announced today.

About 1,000 wives and children of Americans will leave the two great Chinese cities, which may be attacked by Communists before long.

At the same time, General Barr said U. S. military personnel will remain at their posts.

Vice Adm. Oscar Badger, commander of U. S. Western Pacific Forces, said the navy has no intention abandoning its China base at Tsingtao on Shantung peninsula. He said the navy was prepared to evacuate Americans and other foreigners of friendly nations.

Admiral Badger said the fleet was in China to protect Americans and to support the civilian departments of the U. S. government. He said the marines may be landed in Shanghai as a protective force for the 3,500 Americans there.

A notice was circulated among Americans here signed by Master Lewis Clark, while a similar notice was put out by Consul General (Turn to Page Nine)

Dewey Forces Are Blaming Defeat On Over-Confidence

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Over-confidence—that more than anything else is what the people around Gov. Thomas E. Dewey are blaming for his defeat in the presidential election.

It was not so much a case of the Republican nominee himself being sure he had the prize in the bag.

Dewey was confident, but he sensed weeks ago that it was an unhealthy thing for the GOP party workers to take it for granted.

For a while he cautioned that it would be dangerous to let down anything less than what the people around Gov. Thomas E. Dewey are blaming for his defeat in the presidential election.

14 NAZI WAR GUILTY HANG AT LANSBERG

All Convicted of Killing Unarmed U. S. Fliers or Committing Atrocities in Camps

ONE WINS A REPRIEVE

Munich, Germany, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Fourteen German war criminals were hanged at Landsberg prison today in a speed-up of executions. One man won a last-minute reprieve.

The men were convicted of killing unarmed American fliers or committing atrocities in concentration camps.

Today's executions brought to 43 the number of men hanged since the war crimes executions were resumed at Landsberg Oct. 15. The sending of 14 to the gallows in one day reflected the increased tempo.

Previous executions, all on consecutive Fridays, had been in groups of nine or 10.

German church leaders have protested the hangings, but the U. S. military government has refused to take action except in cases where the judge advocate general has certified that new evidence warranted a reprieve.

The U. S. Air Force named today as among the victims, Lt. Col. Gordon K. Wayhew, Harrisburg, Pa., and Cpl. Harry A. Spears, of Vineland, N. J.

Sharpsburg, Nov. 5.—(AP)—An enraged father who believed his small daughter had been raped burst into the jail here today and fatally shot a 75-year-old, one-legged rag picker after summoning a police sergeant as witness.

The victim, William Moore, was shot twice in the heart. Police Sgt. Robert Antelli said Nicholas Antico, 37, Sharpsburg bartender, fired the shots from a .32-20 revolver before Antelli could prevent the slaying.

Antelli said Moore had been jailed on a charge of molesting Antico's five-year-old daughter.

County Detective George Weidie said Antico would be charged with murder.

Antelli gave this version: Early today Antico walked into the police station and asked the location of Moore's cell. Antico walked to the adjacent cell block and was quoted as saying to Moore:

"Are you the man who raped my little girl?"

"I didn't rape her. I only kissed her," Antelli said Moore replied.

Antelli said Antico then called to him: "Come back here, Bob. I want you."

Suspension of Pick-Up Mail Service Argued Pro and Con

Washington, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The proposed suspension of All American Aviation's pick-up mail service was argued pro and con with spokesmen for more than a score of Pennsylvania communities contending the service should be continued.

The suspension has been at issue ever since the Civil Aeronautics Board authorized All American to provide regular passenger and mail in the rural areas but with the provision the new service not duplicate the old.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, represented by Julian T. Cromelin, contended yesterday the pick-up service is too costly and that without it the towns still would have "reasonable" air mail service.

Rep. Van and (R-Pa) spoke for the Pennsylvania communities of DuBois, Clearfield, Philipsburg, State College and Bellefonte.

Joseph R. Greenwood of Washington represented Chambersburg, Franklin, Mount Union, Oil City, Punxsutawney and Titusville, Pa. Clarksburg, Elkins, Glenville, Grafton, Grantsville, Morgantown, Philippi, Ravenswood, Ripley and Weston in West Virginia and Gallopis, Ohio.

Van Zandt told the CAB that the Post Office Department had attempted before to suspend the pick-up service but that congress had stopped it.

Greenwood declared all the points he represented would suffer from suspension of the pick-up service even though some are included in the proposed passenger and mail service.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The accused "bigender of a prison break at Erie county jail Wednesday was being charged with first degree murder in the fatal beating of a guard.

Stephen R. Tuskan, 31, admitted clubbing Guard Joseph J. Wachowiak, 46, and leading four other prisoners to temporary freedom, Sheriff Arthur D. Britt said. Tuskan was charged yesterday shortly after Wachowiak died.

Three of the prisoners were recaptured within 15 minutes and a fourth within six hours. Tuskan was picked up about 12 hours after the break.

Britt said Tuskan admitted in a signed statement knocking Wachowiak over the head with a mop handle, taking his keys and leading the prisoners from the third floor cell block to the street. Tuskan was being held on a first degree robbery charge, the others on various other felony charges.

The jailer, the principal guard and a deputy on duty at the jail were dismissed by Britt for "not minding their jobs."

750,000 CHEER PRESIDENT ON TRIUMPHAL RIDE UP HISTORIC AVENUE TO THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Nov. 5.—(AP)—President Truman, speaking from the front porch of the White House asked today for cooperation of all the people in dealing with the nation's problems.

For himself, he pledged to do the job "to the best of my ability."

Mr. Truman spoke to thousands massed about the executive mansion. They and others like them had just given him a tumultuous welcome back to Washington and cheered him wildly on a triumphal ride up Pennsylvania avenue from Union Station.

The happy president waved and beamed.

But in his White House speech he said solemnly that his greeting "is a man's duty and wonder whether he is worthy of the confidence, worthy of the responsibility which has been thrust upon him."

He told his well-wishers he could not say how much he appreciated the warm and cordial welcome he received from the people of Washington.

"It is overwhelming."

He had been in Mexico, Brazil, Canada, and all the state capitals, "old curmudgeon" of the New Deal. He said today in wide-spread rumors of impending cabinet appointments.

It is all strictly speculation, but some people in high places are whispering that they won't be surprised if President Truman invites back into his official family that master of invective who coined the phrase: "Thomas Blustev Dewey—the Candidate in Sneakers."

Mr. Truman, returning triumphantly to Washington, hasn't said a word about it, but the rumor mills are working overtime about possible shakeups.

A favorite topic of conversation for weeks has been the degree of campaign activity on the part of the various cabinet members—with the exception of Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Those two, because of the bipartisanship foreign policy and the strained international situation, never had been expected to do any plugging for Mr. Truman.

Otherwise the range spread from the all-out efforts of such cabinet officers as Secretary of Labor Tobin and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan down to the political inactivity of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

But in Snyder's case, there has been no suggestion that Mr. Truman ever had suggested or even wanted him to do any campaigning.

Snyder is not regarded as a particularly smooth politician. And while he may leave the cabinet sooner or later to take a better paying job, it seems most likely that he will be the only reason Snyder rode back to Washington with Mr. Truman from St. Louis.

And word passed along to newsmen on the presidential train was that Snyder will be pressed to remain on.

When the train stopped, Sen. Alben Barkley, the next vice president, clambered aboard.

Mr. Truman beaming proudly, came out on the platform and greeted his running mate.

No Decisions Are Reached At Donora

Donora, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A U. S. Public Health Service official says there "is no evidence that would incriminate any one particular plant or mill" in the deaths of 19 persons last weekend in the smog shrouded Monongahela valley.

Dr. Duncan Holaday, of the Industrial Hygiene Division of the Health Service, said yesterday after conferring with state health officials that the cause of the deaths has not yet been established.

Dr. Holaday said state health representatives have started a control program of air sampling in Donora and the surrounding valley, making tests at various hours and under varying weather conditions.

Meanwhile, M. M. Neale, superintendent of the Donora Zinc Works of the American Steel and Wire Co., said the plant will be closed on Sunday with several days required to bring the 1,000 workers back to full production. The plant closed voluntarily last Saturday.

Under the air sampling program all factories in the area will also be "tied up" to see what gases they send into the air. Dr. Holaday called the disaster a "unique occurrence in American industry" but said it could happen elsewhere.

Election Miracle Is Aid To Bus Driver

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The cross-town bus was crowded. Suddenly the driver, coming to a stop, improvised.

"Folks, they say we had a miracle in the election of President Truman. Let's all show 'em a real miracle, let's move to the rear of the bus."

Chuckling, the passengers did.

Restarting the bus driver broke into the first two lines of "God Bless America."

Banquet Held By K. of C. Softball Team

But the usual order of things is for a team sponsor to present a championship team with a trophy. The Knights of Columbus softball team reversed the procedure last night, however, and presented their sponsors, the Warren K. of C. Council, with a beautiful trophy emblematic of their winning the 1948 championship of the Church-YMCA Softball League.

The occasion was a dinner honoring the champions and also the K. of C. team which was eliminated in the playoffs for the title of the K. of C. Pony Softball League.

Dr. Jim Guanta was master of ceremonies for an informal program that included brief talks by League President Irv Rader, Umpire Tony Tomassoni, Co-team managers Sam Gerardi and Gus Cerra, Booking Manager Joe Along and Ed Lourey and Bob Moorhead of the Times-Mirror editorial staff.

Arrangements for the dinner, prepared and served by wives of K. of C. members, included John Musante, Myer Pappalardo, John Salamon, Fred Aumer and Sam Gerardi.

Following the dinner, the K. of C. softball team held a brief business session at which Frank Gerardi and Gus Cerra were named co-managers for next year and Joe Along was re-elected booking manager.

In "Johnny Belinda" at the Library Theatre Today Thru Tuesday

Warner Bros. "Johnny Belinda," co-starring Jane Wyman and Lew Ayers, one of the most widely heralded films ever made in Hollywood, opens today through Tuesday at the Library Theatre.

This is adapted from the Elmer Harris stage play of the same name which attracted widespread approval on Broadway a few seasons ago. Jean Negulesco directed the Jerry Waid production.

Important supporting roles are played by Chester Bickford, Agnes Moorehead and Stephen McNally. Set in the rugged Nova Scotia country, the drama unfolds against a stark panorama of pine and cypress stretched out along the coast-line. Miss Wyman's role of a poor country lass, hated by her father, and loved by the village doctor, is considered one of the strongest dramatic roles which Hollywood has ever allotted a star who is usually associated with glamor.

Besides the four principals, the cast is spiced with interesting names. McNally, who hails from the Broadway stage, plays the villain in the film. He was last seen in "The Magnificent Doll." Jan Sterling, newcomer to films, has an important part as McNally's wife.

Woman's Club Will Exhibit Crary Prints

An exhibition of 100 photographic prints by Clara J. Crary will be given under the auspices of the Art Department of the Woman's Club beginning on November 8th. The exhibition is retrospective in nature, beginning with the early "Farm in Winter", made here in Warren county, and including prints shown in many photographic shows here and abroad. Some of these have received special awards in photographic circles, notably "Nuremberg Fountain", "Canterbury Roofs", "Coptic Monastery", "Elephant's Manicure" and "Tank Welder".

The prints are interesting not only from the technical viewpoint but also from that of subject matter, ranging from still life and portrait studies to "shots" made on various travels in Central America, Europe and the Near East.

According to the catalogue, Mr. Crary is a member of the Oval Table Society, Pictorial Photographers of America, The Camera Club of New York, and holds the following titles, Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain, Associate Photographic Society of America and Associate Pittsburgh Salon. His work has been exhibited in London, Paris, New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Rochester, Cincinnati, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities. He has served on various salon juries and has had one man shows in New York, Pittsburgh and San Francisco.

The exhibition will be open to members of the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon and to the public from Wednesday through Saturday, from three to six in the auditorium.

Official of Social Security Is Coming

An official of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Pennsylvania State Employment Service Office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue west, Warren, beginning at 1:30 p. m., on Monday, November 8, to take applications for benefits under the federal old-age and conduct other business connected with the federal family insurance program, the manager announced today.

The manager urged all employees in industry or commerce who are 65 or over to confer with him on the advisability of filing applications for retirement benefits for which they and their families may be eligible. Where wage earners in employment covered by the Social Security Act have died, members of the families should see him at the earliest possible moment about filing their applications for benefits, Mr. Farmaugh said.

Monthly benefits are payable retroactive for a maximum of only three months before the date of filing, so any long delay in making application will result in loss of benefits.

Church Dedicates Gifts In Service

Russell, Nov. 5—A service of dedication for the new church pews was held in the church, with a very fine program. Two large baskets of chrysanthemums formed a special decoration at each side of the pulpit.

The program opened with a prelude played by Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Jr., followed by a hymn, "The Church's One Foundation" and prayer by Rev. Delbert E. Jolley. Special music included an anthem by the choir; the recital of the 23rd Psalm in unison, and a violin solo by Arthur Briggs, Jr.

The new pews in the church auditorium were presented by the Andrew P. Lindell family in memory of Mr. Arthur Lindell, member of the family and of the church, who gave his life for his country in World War II.

The official board presented a choir screen as a memorial to the late Mrs. Lena Jones, who had been a faithful worker in the church and left funds for its continued work.

The pastor, Rev. Palmer N. Taylor, was assisted in the dedicatory service by the following ministers: Rev. Delbert E. Jolley, Rev. A. L. Pardee, Fredonia, N. Y.; Rev. Philip Schlick, Silver Creek, N. Y.; Rev. Harold Knappenger, Sr., Warren. All but Rev. Jolley are former pastors and Mr. Knappenger delivered the address for the occasion.

The church building has been completely renovated, the main floor refinished, carpets cleaned, and a new chandelier is to be installed, as well as an alternating light for the bulletin board. Both the church and parsonage have been newly painted. In addition, new song books have been ordered for the church.

It is announced that evangelistic meetings are to be held during the latter part of this month, under the leadership of Dr. J. A. Galbraith, of Jamestown, N. Y.

Political Forecast Almost On the Nose

Political prognosticators and second guesses are at this date worth about a dime a dozen, but Warren possesses one who came the closest to the actual results of the recent presidential election of any we have heard.

E. E. Lunquist, 412 Market St., for many years secretary of the Warren County Democratic Committee, told a Times-Mirror reporter that his prediction, in October, was as follows:

States for Truman, 27; states for Dewey, 19; states for Thurmond, 2.

Actually occurring were 28 states for Truman, 16 for Dewey and four for Thurmond.

Mr. Lunquist's guess on the electoral vote was 294 for Truman, 220 for Dewey and 17 for Thurmond. It is interesting to note that

THE DEMOCRATIC AMERICAN WAY

"The ball game isn't over," radio sportscasters say a million times each year, "until the last man is out—or the final gun is sounded." Americans had occasion to think of this old cliché when they woke up (or got up from their radios) on the morning after election, and realized that the expected landslide election of Thomas E. Dewey to the presidency had somehow failed to materialize.

Dewey was in, they had been assured by their newspapers, their radio commentators, their columnists, their poll takers and their barbers. Never before in history had so many words been written to support a foregone conclusion. And never before were so many predictions scrapped on the morning after an election. Some of the poll takers quit taking polls some months ago because the outcome was so obvious. (Some of them should have quit long before they did, it appears.)

But somehow the American voters didn't vote the way they told the poll takers they would. As to why they didn't—the columnists and radiocasters will spend the next several weeks, months and maybe years knocking out words of explanation. What will happen to the poll takers, nobody can be sure. We know what happened to the old Literary Digest, one of the original election forecasting agencies, when it missed by almost 100 per cent in its calculations. It folded.

But whatever the majority of writers and prophets thought, and whatever they told the voters, one fact remains. The American people, by a democratic majority in a free election, have expressed their preference for the Democratic Party and its standard-bearer. Whether they liked the Democratic platform better, whether they were opposed to the Taft-Hartley law, favored the European Recovery Program, or whatever, nobody can say for sure. Perhaps the pollsters will be able to find out.

Whatever their motives, their particular likes or dislikes, the American people can feel proud that they—not their political bosses, nor their newspapers, nor even their poll takers—have rendered a decision. And their decision will stick. Even the millions of people who campaigned and voted against the winners will fall in line and support their duly elected government.

There are countries where, if the fate of the government remained in doubt overnight as it did, in fact, during this election, the people wouldn't know whether to go to work the next morning. Not so in America.

Nobody with guns takes over our seat of government during the night. Even those officeholders who lost will continue at their same old stands for a couple more months.

That is the American way, just as it is the American way for free voters to name their men, and for all to support the winners once the returns are in.

GAVIN IS LAUDED

Franklin News-Herald

Congressman Leon H. Gavin is returned to Congress with a plurality of 19,000 in the 19th District—a tribute to his energy and constant work in behalf of the six counties he represents. He carried five by pluralities ranging into the thousands, having a lead of more than 7,500 in Venango, Jefferson by 4,100, Warren by 4,300 and taking Democratic Elk County by a margin of 234.

With enthusiasm characteristic of his vigilant thoughtfulness in behalf of all the voters, he said:

"I sincerely appreciate the assistance so many of the electorate gave me in my work and their great interest in the problems of the 19th District. I hope I may continue to merit the full confidence and faith so many people have reposed in me."

Mr. Gavin's record in Congress merited citation by B. C. Forbes as one of the country's outstanding legislators. The resounding vote he got in Venango, Warren and Clarion counties as well as the sizeable pluralities in other areas of his district gave proof not only of his popularity, but of his real service and able decisions on major questions.

SALUTE TO A RARE BIRD

Congressmen who admit they are wrong are about as scarce as the whooping crane. So we should like to call special attention to such a phenomenon, in case any reader missed it. Rep. Harold Knutson of Minnesota has owned up that he was wrong in voting against the Marshall Plan, which he thought would be another UNRRA. (He didn't like UNRRA.) He says now that in view of the Plan's record he would vote to extend it and give it the money it needs.

We are not so optimistic as to think that this modest candor will sweep the 81st Congress. But we still want to salute one member who is brave enough to shed his congressional infallibility as well as his congressional immunity once he finds himself away from Capitol Hill.

Here And There

THIS AND THAT: Pennsylvanians are urged by Gov. James H. Duff to pay tribute to the "unselfish devotion" of the Marine Corps on Wednesday, November 10th, proclaiming Marine Corps Day. Duff says it is the day to remember "the great debt we owe to the Marine Corps for its sacrifices throughout our history in adding to maintaining our cherished personal freedom." . . . Incidentally Thursday, December 9, has been set as the date for the annual banquet of the Downtown Coaches' Association, to honor the Bradford Owls of 1948, place will be the Emery Hotel, and the speaker will be George Munger, renowned coach of the University of Pennsylvania's undefeated and untied football Quakers. . . . The Kane plan of Blood donor service is being used for similar units through the country, with Carol Rockwell reporting he has received numerous inquiries concerning operation of the service, the latest being from the Warren Chapter of the Red Cross. . . . Waite Forsyth, sports writer on the Jamestown Post-Journal, commenting on the fact that "Rosey" Rosequist, Jackets' assistant coach, entered the lineup for the first time this season against the Legion last Sunday, says: "As a disinterested observer, I admired 'Rosey's' courage, but questioned his judgment. Taking action against that Jamestown line is no part of a rest cure—those guys really smack 'em down'." . . . ## Deadly Weapon

By Wade Miller

Chapter 19
SOMEHOW, the native phrase seemed odd on the elder man's tongue. Walter James nodded without speaking and moved toward the indicated door. He could sense Darmer and Little Steve coming up behind him. He opened the door and stepped into the vibrating heat of the patio.

A flash of reflected sunlight hit the corner of his eye and he twisted. The blade of the knife clipped the side of his neck instead of the back. He threw a fist into young Lux's soft belt line and the Mexican staggered against the door jamb.

Walter James turned to run toward the gate in the high stucco wall, but Darmer's foot caught him in the small of the back. He fell, rolled over a stubby bush and staggered to his feet. His forearm stopped two of the beefy man's short jabs. The third blow got through—a long right that grazed metal knuckles across his cheek. The left side of his face went numb.

"Little different without a gun," grunted Darmer. The Mexican was coming up again. He had left his knife in the doorway. Walter James ducked and pinstoned both fists against Darmer's heart. The beefy American gasped. In the pause, the slight detective broke and whirled. The narrow edge of his hand sliced into Little Steve's throat and the Mexican sank to his knees.

The metal knucks pounded mercilessly against his head. He drove a pointed toe into Darmer's kneecap, but he couldn't move his arms or his head fast enough to avoid the blunt metal rings. Walter James felt himself sinking, the sun beat down inside his head somehow and he was trying to burn it away out. Blood was bright on his powder blue lapels.

He lay down. It was the easiest way and the grass was cool. Darmer was wearing heavy, highlaced shoes. He could see one of them swinging back and forth methodically. There was no feeling except in the hot ends of his fingers and inside his skull. From the way his body was jumping, he realized he was being kicked. He remembered Clapp's objection to a finger in the kidneys and he wanted to laugh. How was it you laughed, now?

A voice murmured, "Enough, John." Then he was being dragged across grass and over neat rows of round stones and by low bushes. For a while it was pleasant, being suspended in space, then there was beige dust all around him.

Walter James cushioned his face in the dust and stared at it. It was adobe-colored and alive with prancing red devils. He said aloud, "This is the alley."

AFTER a long time he managed to balance himself on his elbows and his knees. The red devils resolved themselves into dark, dusty globules of red. He spread his fingers among them and shoved up. The ground spun around and he nearly fell over. His side was beginning to ache now, in low rhythmic throbs. He crawled and hoped it was in the right direction.

His head rammed something and he felt it. Adobe. Was everything adobe in this damn town? He put his shoulder against the rough surface and forced his body up.

It was pleasant up here without the dust. His nostrils began to clear. Looking back to see how far he had come, he saw the patio gate a yard away; he had crawled in a short semicircle into the wall.

Walter James felt for a cigarette but the pack was empty. He said, "Hell!" and threw it. He said, "Probably wouldn't be so bad now. He still couldn't feel his legs and that might make it easy."

It did. He stopped at the end of the alley and straightened his coat. It was impossible to brush much of the dark red mud off it. He drew in his breath and stepped into the street.

Kevin looked at him without recognition. Then he let out a short scream. "Walter!" She scrambled out of the car and ran toward him.

"It's your turn to drive," he said. She was crying. "Walter, Walter!" she choked. "I'll kill them! I'll kill them!"

He held onto her shoulder with one dirty hand. "Later. Let's go back to town."

She helped him into the car and tried to wipe some of the caked blood off his face. "Don't," he said.

His voice was out of control. Sobbing, she jammed at the starter and rumpled the car away from the curb. He tumbled in her purse for a cigarette with trembling fingers. Somehow he lit it and dragged deeply.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I'm always like this afterwards. I'm all right while it's going on but afterwards I get the shakes."

Kevin's fingers gripped his leg above the knee. He could see her hand making furrows in the cloth but he couldn't feel anything. "But they've hurt you, darling," she said. "I can't stand to see you like this. I love you so, Walter. I can't stand to see you hurt."

"I'm not so bad off," Walter James insisted. "They won't like me at the border, but I'm still in fair shape." He ran cautious fingers over his head. "Let's see. Three cuts in the head. Most of them are above the hairline so they won't show much. This cheek's a little beat up. And I'll need some tape on these ribs."

He put his hand under his coat and felt his back. "I'll be glad when my spine comes to life." He pulled out his hand; in it was a snub-barreled pistol.

"You had guns?" Kevin said. "Why didn't you use it?" He considered. "I guess I would have if they'd really gotten rough."

Senior Class Is All Set For Its Community Party

Plans are just about set today for the community youth party to be sponsored by the senior class at Beatty Junior High School Saturday evening. The hours will be 8:15 until 11:00, and the co-chairmen, Dick Schuler and Patsy Anderson, have some nice surprises in store.

Marge Ritchie asks that her decorations committee meet at the school at 10 a. m. Saturday to set the scene for the party. Working with her will be Nancy Whipple, Bruce Forsgren, Nancy Kinney, Ruth Davis, Gail Bevevino, Carol Siefert and Romaine McLaughlin. Serving with Mary Ann Harrison for the first shift on the door will be Kay Hornstrom, with Joanne Hickey and Dorothy Klenck taking the second shift. A special award will be given during the evening by this group.

Something new and different is promised by Don Wood and Allen Anderson for the floor show, but they are giving out with no advance clues.

Elaine Bova and Gail Bevevino will be in charge of the game room, Allen Anderson is handling publicity, Jean O'Connor heads the refreshments committee, and set-up is the task of Nick Mangus and Dave Winars.

This senior-sponsored party is the first in the series that will extend over the next four months, each class taking a turn in planning the affairs for the first and third Saturdays of each month.

Charter Members Are Honored By Women of Moose

Warren Chapter, Women of the Moose, held a delightful banquet at the Hotel Carver Wednesday evening honoring charter members and observing the anniversary of the organization.

The table was beautifully set in autumn colors, with yellow and green favors marking places of the 25 charter members, officers and chapter members.

There are nine charter members, all of whom have belonged to the chapter continuously since its founding in 1922. These members, each of whom received a remembrance of the occasion, were Grace Miller, Emily Dietrich, Ella Small, Helena Larson, Genevieve McMahon and Grace Moore. In addition, these three were unable to be in attendance: Alice Standish, Mary Brown and Elizabeth Taylor.

A very interesting talk was given by Grace Miller, who told of the administrations of different officials, and others recounted events of the chapter's history since they have belonged.

One out of town member was Mary Zarinsky, of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Life Saving Classes End This Evening

Tonight's classes will mark the conclusion of the life saving and water safety classes for instructors which have been conducted here this week by William Bailey, Jr., field representative of the Eastern Area of the American Red Cross.

As a result, these student-instructors will be able to start next Tuesday evening to start organizing classes to instruct those interested in beginners and intermediate swimming, diving, functional swimming, junior and senior life saving.

All interested in such instruction are asked to be at the YMCA between seven and nine o'clock on Tuesday evening, so that screening processes may be completed and the actual course of instruction be started on the following Tuesday.

The chapter has had the wholehearted cooperation of YMCA officials in this life saving and water safety program, which is entirely voluntary on the part of instructors, and is being carried on under the general supervision of John P. Allen, water safety chairman for the Warren County Chapter.

Mr. Allen states it is the chapter's desire that parents particularly enter into this campaign, since Physical Director William Hulvey is carrying out an excellent program for boys and young men and it is in the older group that the instruction is most needed.

Plan Project For the Aid Of Children

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6, 631, of Warren, concluded at its meeting last night to sponsor V. F. W. Children's Fund for the benefit of all Warren county children.

The entire membership of the post is enthusiastically behind the movement, the purpose of which is to render aid and assistance to any worthy child in Warren county.

It is intended to request a number of community leaders to be assisted by the Women's Auxiliary members of the Post, who will administer directly, and without remuneration, the funds of the organization. None of the funds will be used for administrative purposes, all monies being earmarked for direct and immediate assistance to children of the county.

The post has long considered the advisability of sponsoring such a movement, which will meet the immediate needs of the worthy children of the county.

Talent Recognition Show

This is National Art Week and community-minded persons in general and art lovers in particular will welcome announcement by Mrs. William Wright, chairman, that the Woman's Club will again sponsor a Talent Recognition Show next May 19, 20 and 21. First held experimentally in 1947, the show proved so successful it was repeated the following season on a larger scale. It has now become an annual event.

Last year the show was open to the public for a day and a half. During that time some 500 people viewed the work of junior and senior artists. This season's exhibit will be on display for three full days so that all residents of Warren and those from neighboring towns, as well, can see it.

"We are enthusiastic over prospects for this season's Art Show," said Mrs. Wright yesterday. "We are having it in May instead of in March as before. That gives us more time to contact newcomers as well as former contributors. And it also gives the artists two more months in which to prepare work for the show. Then, too, we will avoid the bad weather which prevented many out of town people from coming."

"This is a community enterprise. We hope that everyone will help to spread the news that we are having another show for amateur artists. If you know of any artistic newcomers who may not have heard of our Art Show we hope you will tell them that they are most welcome to enter it. We will announce details and rules later on."

It is not too soon to start planning now to enter work or to attend the Art Show at the Woman's Club next May 19-21.

Dulles Lashes Out Against Russians

Paris, Nov. 5—(P)—The United States told Russia today Americans have stopped disarming and intend to be strong, for the benefit of both themselves and their friends.

U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles spoke in the United Nations political committee in debate on charges that Russia's eastern European allies are violating the Greek border.

Dulles termed "vicious falsehoods" Russia's charges that the United States plans aggression. But he added that the United States "intends to be strong because our strength is not for ourselves alone."

er dignitaries hastily scrambled aboard. Some were accompanied by their wives. The hand shaking and congratulations went on for more than 10 minutes, while the crowd yelled and the Metropolitan Police Band blared away lustily.

Also waiting at the platform were President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, and Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Aging Senator McKellar of Tennessee pressed forward to greet the president as did Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Lucas of Illinois and Herbert O'Connor of Maryland.

Mr. Truman alternately shook hands and waved to the crowd which kept up a continuous roar.

Finally, the president said he would like to shake hands with everyone, but could not.

Catching his own hands above his head Mr. Truman said, "I'm shaking hands with all of you."

When the president first came to the platform, he was wearing a natty blue top coat.

But the handshaking warmed him up.

After about 15 minutes, Mr. Truman shed the coat, uncovering his customary gray double-breasted suit.

It was not until 11:22 that the parade to the White House finally got underway.

Mr. Truman, Mrs. Truman, and Margaret invited Senators Barkley and McGrath to ride with them in the lead car.

At the request of photographers, Mr. Truman and Senator Barkley sat on the top of the back seat, waving their hats as they posed for pictures.

Mr. Truman was in blue and Margaret in light tan. Both wore furs.

The automobile moved up Pennsylvania avenue to roaring cheers from crowds packing the curbs.

The victorious candidates waved their hats some more.

Torn paper and confetti showered down from a few of the taller buildings.

In front of the Washington Post was a sign, "Welcome Home From the Crow Eaters." The Post had invited Mr. Truman to eat turkey at a "crow" dinner for political experts who had predicted his defeat.

Market Quotations

New York, Nov. 5—(P)—The stock market headed downward early today after momentary indecision. In less than half an hour losses piled up to more than 20 points. Considerable activity developed. Steel shares led the retreat, followed by motors, rails and oil. The balance of the market slid downward at a slower rate. The fresh decline followed yesterday's rally which recouped part of Wednesday's severe post-election losses. Renewed signs of weakness developed late yesterday, however, particularly in the steel section. U. S. Steel opened 5/8 lower on a bloc of 1,300 shares and almost immediately dropped more than a point.

I WAS SAYING, A MAN WHOM UNCLE ROLAND COULDN'T RECALL STOPPED TO INQUIRE ABOUT HIS "RUSTY OLD HEIRLOOMS." WHY DO YOU ASK?

THAT'S THE VERY PHRASE ROLAND USED IN BORROWING TOOLS THAT NIGHT!... "TO BURY SOME RUSTY OLD HEIRLOOMS!"

HE WAS TOO CAUTIOUS TO ADMIT HE WAS HIDING A VALUABLE TREASURE! DO YOU RECALL THE FELLA'S NAME?

WHY, YES, IT WAS AN OLD ONE—RIGADON MALUKE!

JUMPING BLUE BLAZES! I REMEMBER NOW...IT WAS RIGGY! NOT REGGIE! HE'S THE MAN WE'RE AFTER!

BLAZES! NO WONDER HE COULDN'T FIND REGGIE!

ON HODGE! DID YOU EVER HEAR OF CEDRIC OR UNCLE ROLAND MENTION A MAN NAMED RIGADON MALUKE?

YES, INDEED! HE WAS ONE OF THE CARPENTERS THEY EMPLOYED IN PRESERVING PLACES OF HISTORICAL INTEREST.

SWELL! DO YOU KNOW WHERE HE LIVES?

SIR CEDRIC RECENTLY MENTIONED SEEING HIM IN...LET ME SEE...IN GADSWOLD!

THAT'S QUITE SOME DISTANCE FROM HERE, EASY! PERHAPS WE CAN GET A BUS IN THE VILLAGE.

MEANWHILE, I'VE LOCATED THE RUIN—SCORCHY WITHOUT ATTRACTING ANY ATTENTION! NOW WE'LL WAIT TILL NIGHTFALL.

IT SHOULDN'T TAKE LONG TO LOCATE RIGADON MALUKE'S COTTAGE IN GADSWOLD, EASY!

NOR TO FIND WHERE ROLAND SEALED HIS BOX IN THE ONE WALL OF A RUIN NEAR THERE!

WHAT IRKS ME IS THE TIME AND WORRY IT COST US BECAUSE I CONFUSED THE NAME REGGIE WITH RIGGY!

PERHAPS IT'S LUCKY YOU DID!...IT TREW SNEATH OFF THE TRACK!

RIGADON MALUKE, EH? WELL, YE LIKE COCKLE LANE 'ARF A MILE, THEN...

NO CASS OR BUSES! IT'S QUITE A WALK WITH THAT ANKLE, PENNY!

BUT I'M TOO EXCITED TO MISS THIS LAST LAP OF OUR SEARCH, EASY!

WELL, HERE WE ARE AT LAST, EASY!

BUT BLAZES...THAT'S NOT THE COTTAGE ROLAND STOPPED AT, YEARS AGO!

IN THE MOST ISOLATED VILLAGE OF GADSWOLD.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

FRECK AND LARD HAVE BEEN PERSUADED TO JOIN US FOR DESSERT!

FINE!

HOW JOLLY OF YOU TO INVITE YOURSELVES!

IF IT GETS STUFFY IN HERE, WE CAN ALWAYS STOP BREATHING!

SCRAM, SAM! YOU'RE KISSING UP THE ACT!

SO SORRY, PLEASE, BUT ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE—AND TWIRP SEASON!

THAT WAS TERRIF! THANKS A LOT, GALS!

WHY THANK US?

DON'T BE MODEST, HILDA! I THINK YOU'RE BEING SWELL ABOUT TWIRP SEASON!

BUT—

AND UNTIL THE BOYS TOLD ME TWIRP MEANS THE WOMAN IS REQUESTED TO PAY, I THOUGHT THE PARTY WAS ON ME! ISN'T THAT A SCREAM?

HILARIOUS!

DON'T ALL REACH AT ONCE, BOYS AND GIRLS!

WE KNOW WE'RE SUPPOSED TO PAY DURING TWIRP SEASON, BUT OUR TWIRP TASSELS—

---ARE AS BARE AS MOTHER'S CUPBOARD!

THIS HURTS ME MORE THAN IT DOES YOU, GIRLS, BUT YOU KNOW THE RULES!

MAYBE THEY'LL LET YOU WASH DISHES!

LET ME HAVE THE CHECK! BUT, MOTHER! MOTHER?

YES—I TOLD YOU I WAS SORT OF A PARTY'S ON ME!

PRISCILLA'S POP

OH, PLEASE, PRISCILLA! DOESN'T YOUR CONSCIENCE TELL YOU NOT TO DO THESE THINGS?

MY WHO??

DOESN'T A SMALL VOICE INSIDE OF YOU WARN YOU WHEN YOU'RE DOING WRONG?

SURE, BUT I WAS MAKING SUCH A RACKET THAT I COULDN'T HEAR IT!

MAY I USE THE CURTAIN-STRETCHER, PLEASE?

THE WHAT?

I'M AFRAID NOT, MRS. BOYTS. I DON'T APPROVE OF NEIGHBORS WHO BORROW THINGS!

BORROWING IS THRIFTLESS! IF YOU NEED A CURTAIN-STRETCHER YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR OWN!

BUT IT IS MY OWN! MRS. NUTCHELL BORROWED IT FROM ME!

MY, MY! THIS ANTISEPTIC AIR HERE WILL BE THE DEATH OF ME YET!

THERE! THIS WILL BE MY MORE HANDY TO TALK IN. GO AHEAD, MR. FLINT.

DR. ARCHER, YOUR WIFE THINKS YOU ARE PLAYING THE SKEETRIX ON HER THAT YOU THINK SHE'S PLAYING ON YOU, NEITHER ONE OF YOU SEEMS GUILTY TO ME. YOU LOOK LIKE NICE PEOPLE.

I'D HATE TO THINK YOUR MARRIAGE WAS HEADING FOR THE SMOILS JUST THROUGH A MUTUAL MIS-UNDERSTANDING.

DO YOU LOVE YOUR WIFE, DR. ARCHER?

I DO! I DO INDEED! IF ONLY I WERE SURE OF HER!

THAT'S THE STORY, YOU LOVE HER BUT THINK SHE'S TWO-TIMING YOU. SHE DOES THE SAME IN REVERSE.

PROPOSTIONS!

BUT TRUE, TO ONE TO BRING YOU TWO TOGETHER TO TALK THE MATTER OVER, DR. ARCHER.

CUDDLES, MY LAD, IF YOU'LL BE OUT EXACTLY $150,000.

FLINT, I LIKE THIS IDEA MORE AND MORE OF GETTING TOGETHER WITH MY WIFE TO TALK OVER OUR MIS-UNDERSTANDINGS.

WE CAN ALL DRIVE OUT TO YOUR HOUSE IN MY CAR, DR. ARCHER, AND MORE OF GETTING TOGETHER FROM THE PARKING LOT.

DON'T LET YOUR ENTHUSIASM CARRY YOU AWAY, ROBIN. REMEMBER, WE'RE PLAYING AROUND WITH OTHER MEN.

MRS. ARCHER WON'T BE EXPECTING ANYBODY IN THE MIDDLE OF THE AFTERNOON. WE'LL CATCH HER UNAWARES.

YES, THIS IS THE MAID'S DAY OFF. VERA IS SURE TO BE HOME TAKING CARE OF LITTLE CHRIS, OUR SON.

MY ONLY HOPE IS THAT HER DRIVING BROTHER HAS PICKED TODAY TO GIVE HER ANOTHER OF HIS EMERGENCY CALLS TO BAIL HIM OUT OF SOME BAR.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

WHY, PUG! WHAT'S SO TERRIBLY INTERESTING IN THE PAPER TODAY?

THE MOVIES. MRS. OTT! THERE'S A MONEY SHOWING AT OUR THEATER TONIGHT!

OH, YES! I'VE BEEN WAITING TO SEE THAT!

I'LL SIT WITH YOUR LITTLE SUGIE IF YOU'D CARE TO GO. I CAN'T, ON ACCOUNT OF IT'S A SCHOOL NIGHT!

WOULD YOU, PUG? OH, THANK YOU! ABOUT SEVEN?

GREAT! YOU HAVE TO RAISE THE FLAG FOR THAT YOUNG GAL!

AND WE MUST DO ALL WE CAN TO HELP!

SURE! BUT WITHOUT HER KNOWING IT, OF COURSE!

OF COURSE!

BOOTS, WHERE'S PUG?

OVER AT THE OTTS', SITTING WITH THEIR LITTLE GIRL WHILE THEY TAKE IN A MOVIE!

PUG IS TRYING SO HARD TO EARN SOME MONEY TO BUY SOME NEW CLOTHES!

BOOTS, I DON'T KNOW JUST HOW TO SAY IT—NOT EXACTLY "BUT, YOU SEE—"

YES?

WELL, TO LIKE A NEW DRESS LIKE CRAZY! I MEAN, RIGHT NOW! BUT I DON'T HAVE ENOUGH MONEY TO PAY FOR IT AND—

YOU'D LIKE TO GET THE DRESS NOW AND CHARGE IT TO MY ACCOUNT AND BE GETTING THE GOOD OUT OF IT WHILE YOU PAY ME FOR IT SO MUCH A WEEK! RIGHT?

RIGHT! AND I ALREADY HAVE $25 TO PAY ON IT! RIGHT NOW! CASH!

YOU SEE, THERE'S NO WAY YOU COULD POSSIBLY LOSE!

Warren-Kane Grid Clash Saturday Marks End Of Trail For Eighteen Members Of The Dragon Varsity

Tomorrow afternoon's battle between the Warren Dragons and Kane Hilltoppers not only will ring down the curtain on the 1948 grid season for the Dragons but will write final to the holoistic grid careers of 18 members of the Blue and White Varsity. In addition, 13 members of the reserve squad will be lost to the team next season through graduation or because of the F.I.A.A. age ruling.

Kickoff for the Kane game, to be played on the Hilltoppers' gridiron, will be at 2 p. m.

A large crowd of the Dragons' followers are expected to be on hand for the battle. Those who are driving to the game are reminded that there is a short detour in Route 6 between Ludlow and Westmore.

The Dragons are favored to win Saturday, on the basis of season records which show seven wins in nine starts for the Lehighmen and only two wins in seven starts for Kane. But for some unexplained reason, Kane frequently has been "rily in the outcount" for Warren teams, and what the squads lack in power it makes up for in spirit.

Seniors on the Dragon Varsity who will be playing their final game include: Keith Vesling, Ted Battuck, Nonny Castagnino, Bill Miller, Creed Erickson, Dick Linsen, Randy White, Harry Hage, Chuck Niederlander, Bob Umagum, Milt Dickerson, John Anna, Chuck Henderson, Ned Berman, Bill Cameron, Bruce Ross, Gene Morley.

Seniors among the reserves include Don Anderson, Val Condo, Mike D'Angelo, John Hott, Bob Guiffre, Warren Lowe,

Warren Red Jacket's meeting in the team's dressing room in the Dagles building last night ruled out any more home games this season, but frustrated looking Manager Chas. Morrissey to line up several out-of-town tilt.

In Red Jacket's opinion, they had dropped the idea of any more home games this season, on War Memorial field because they have lost money in five of the seven home games.

No game will be played this Sunday, but the squad will hold an extensive practice session in preparation for a tilt that is expected to be played in next week.

The Red Jacket's also were concerned of the public of the Red Jacket's, Herion, manager of the Blue Vets team, in cancelling a battle with the local war-musicians after he had agreed to a game.

Oil Industry Stamp Urged By Olean Man

Oil City—John P. Herrick of Olean, N. Y., prominent producer of Pennsylvania oil, urged today that the United States honor its oil industry by a special postage stamp before the industry becomes 100 years old. He pointed to 15 foreign countries which have issued oil stamps.

In a statement made through the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, Mr. Herrick called on the Post Office Department to follow the example of seven countries in Europe and eight in this hemisphere which have printed postage stamps descriptive of the oil industry.

"It seems quite remarkable," Mr. Herrick said, "that the United States where the first well was drilled for oil in 1859 and which is the world's largest producer of petroleum has not yet issued a postage stamp to honor the oil industry."

Mr. Herrick is chairman of a committee named by the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association to urge that the government issue a special three-cent stamp next August 27 in joint tribute to the oil industry and to Col. E. L. Drake on the 90th anniversary of the completion of the first well drilled for oil by Col. Drake at Titusville, Pa. Support for the proposal has come from leaders of the oil industry from coast to coast.

In Europe, Mr. Herrick said, countries which have issued oil stamps include Austria, Azerbaijan—a Soviet Russian republic which has put out 26 oil stamps—Czechoslovakia, Iraq, The Netherlands, Romania and Russia. The Soviet oil stamp is a light green one for airmail, showing an airplane flying over an oil field.

The American republics which have issued oil stamps, Mr. Herrick said, include Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil—which commemorated petroleum in 1941 when the country had only four producing
